Lions Want Pool

The Belle Glade Lions Club held the Belle Glade City Commission Monday night to begin negotiations to sell the municipal pool back to the Lions.

Lion President Bert Ward presented the proposed resolution to the commission and said the Lions, to put it simply, want to exercise its option to buy back the 99 year lease the city signed in 1907.

The purchase would be made for an amount determined as the fair market value by a panel of three appraisers, one chosen by the Lions, one by the city and the third, chosen by the first two appraisers.

City Attorney John Baker said the Lions apparently have the legal right to purchase the lease, "anytime from year one to year 99."

Ward said one of the reasons the Lions want to purchase the lease is because the pool has fallen into a state of disrepair and is unusable.

The city has had two studies made to determine how much repairs would cost and estimates have run from $33,000 to $60,000.

The Lions agreed also the city saved approximately $4,000 from the pool in the period 1969-72 while the expenditures for upkeep ran to $26,500.

The city commission had previously set up a workshop for June 17 to discuss repairs of the pool and, on commission, John Baker's motion, the city decided to accept the Lions' resolution subject to further discussion at the workshop.

An earlier motion by Commissioner William Grear to table the resolution until the commissioners have time to discuss it died for lack of a second.

Grear said he was against the city giving up any recreational facility, particularly the pool because it provides good recreation to the city population as a whole. Grear voted no on Grear's motion to accept the resolution/pending discussion.

Following the meeting, Grear said he had spent most of the afternoon persuading a group of black Belle Glade residents not to demonstrate at the commission meeting because of the pool.

"They were going to come down here," he said, "with signs calling the commissioners 'niggers' if they accepted the resolution. It was all I could do to persuade them not to make that kind of demonstration."

Grear said many of the blacks in the city fear the pool will become a facility available only to the city's whites if it reverts to the Lions.

During the meeting, Grear accused the other commissioners of not taking positive action to repair the pool and said he had paid an engineer out of his own pocket to make an independent estimate.

He said the engineer told him the pool could be tumbled under and the drainage laid repaired for as little as $7,000.

Grear suggested the estimate received earlier by the city may have been padded.

Before making his motion, Grear asked Ward what the Lions intend to do with the land and Ward said no definite plans had been made yet. But he said the club had considered using the building for storage space or possibly converting it to a meeting house for the Lions.

Grear said Wednesday morning he had been approached only that morning by city residents objecting to the reversion of the pool to the Lions.

But Two Sneak Under the Deadline

Belle Glade City Commissioners decided Monday to refuse to approve any more temporary permits to park mobile homes on non-conforming property, but not before granting two final requests.

The commissioners made the decision on the grounds such mobile home added to the city's sewage system decreases the number of homes to be added when and if the sewage connection moratorium is lifted.

City Commissioner William Grear moved the commission, "recall any further issuing of trailer permits until we get a temporary operating permit from the state Department of Pollution Control."

After it was seconded, the commission performed a parliamentary juggling act to allow permits to be issued to Mrs. Bernice Nelson and Mrs. Sylvia Redwood, who said they had been attempting to get approval for approximately six weeks.

Grear moved to table Mrs. Grear's motion and then moved the two women be issued trailer permits not going back to lift Grear's motion from the table.

The commission voted 4-1-0 to grant the two requests.

The temporary operating permit for the city sewage treatment plant was also discussed earlier in the meeting when Ralph Kirk dissenting on the grounds other state agencies involved.

This matter originally came up when City Manager William Mallory recommended the commission, on the advice of the department of pollution control, buy two new sludge pumps in an attempt to reduce problems in the plant's effluent.

When local builder Simon P. Mosely of 1300 S.W. Ave. E asked Mallory if the installation of the pumps would mean he could begin building homes to be connected to the city's sewage system, Mallory said he hoped so, but he was unsure.

"I wish," he said, when Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Redwood were telling the commission why they needed permits to park trailers on a non-conforming lot. "They (the Department of Pollution Control) had to be the ones to listen to this type of testimony and tell them why they can't have the permits."

Belle Glade Flood Prone HUD Rules

The city hasn't received official notice about it yet but Belle Glade is on a list which could mean another stop to construction of residences.

According to a news release received last week, Belle Glade has been listed by the Federal Insurance Administration as a flood prone community which hasn't yet qualified for federal flood insurance.

According to the Flood Disaster Protection Act, passed in December 1973, this means the city must qualify for the program or no federal or federally-related financial assistance will be available.

The act gives a community identified as flood prone until July 1, 1978, to qualify for the program. No homeowner after that date can apply for FHA or other federal loans.

It would also affect every loan for housing made by any bank in Belle Glade and unless the city commission qualifies the city for the flood loans, construction could come to a stop.

Belle Glade City Manager William Mallory III said the city hasn't been notified by HUD the city has been declared a flood-prone area.

Donald R. McIntosh of Travelers Insurance Companies, which handles the flood insurance for the state of Florida, Belle Glade still wasn't listed as flood prone as of April 25.

McIntosh addressed a regional group of loan officers here on that date on flood insurance and said he was supposed to have the latest lists of cities declared flood prone and the latest list of cities in the state which have qualified to buy the insurance.

The list of flood prone areas accompanying the news release distributed by HUD's Federal Insurance Administration was dated March 31 and a HUD official in Atlanta said the city has been considered flood prone since September 1972.

Rick Mason, a flood insurance specialist with the Federal Insurance Administration in Atlanta, said the administration placed Belle Glade on the list after receiving technical data from the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

"The methods used were based on historical data," Mason said. "Within the next two or three months, maps and lists will be issued to the cities on the list, identifying the areas which are flood prone."

Also appearing on the list are S. 8th Bay and Pahokee. Other cities around the lake considered flood prone are Clewiston, Moore Haven, Okeechobee and LaBelle. Only Clewiston is participating in the insurance program.

Congress Expecting No New Sugar Act

An agricultural aide in U.S. Sen. Lawton Chiles' office said the initial reaction in Congress to the House's killing of the Sugar Act is that there will be an increase in prices and the climate for a revived Act will become more favorable.

Margaret Marachuk said the Senate or the House may then reintroduce legislation on the Act.

"There is some feeling," she said, "that the USDA can still enforce some of the provisions of the act, such as import quotas, even after the Act dies on Dec. 31."

Ms. Marachuk said that in any rate there is some legal maneuvering going on at the time to revive the act.

"Sen. Chiles," she said, "isn't on any of the committees directly involved in the Sugar Act, but of course he's interested in any legislation which affects Florida and this vitally affects Florida."

U.S. Sen. Ed Gurnsey's office reported no efforts in the Senate to revive the issue after it was killed in the House. Rep. Paul Rogers' office reported the same attitude in the House.

"The Florida Sugar Cane League board of directors held a meeting on the matter Monday and the general feeling which came out of the room was to 'sit tight and see what happens.'"

The action by the House's Longue View President and General Manager Nelson Fairbanks said Friday, "could have far-reaching repercussions not only against the American consumer, but also against the sugar workers and the sugar farmers."

Keep Cool

When the Belle Glade Lions Club decided to exercise its option to buy back the lease for the land containing the municipal swimming pool, the members may not have realized the possible reactions.

They may still not realize the possibilities. Everything was quiet enough at the city commission meeting Monday night when they asked the city to sell its rights to the pool and the land it's on. But some ugly rumblings concerning the possible transaction have been heard.

There seems to be little doubt about the Lions' legal right to buy the lease held by the city, and buy the buildings and the pool constructed by the city since the lease was signed in 1957.

And no one can argue with the idea the city has done precious little to get the pool back into operation since it was closed last spring because of a leak in the drainage system.

It could be expensive to have the pool repaired. Estimates have run as high as $60,000 but City Commissioner William Grear said he has received one estimate for as low as $7,000 for tunnelling under the pool and repairing it from underneath.

Depending on the use made of it, it could be a good thing for the community if the Lions do reclaim the pool, but there is already a certain amount of opposition forming.

Grear told the Herald after Monday night's meeting the reason for the opposition is that black residents of the city feel the pool would be closed to blacks if it reverts to the Lions Club.

Checking with the Lions, we were told the Lions realize this won't work anymore and that, should they get the pool and make it operable again, it will almost certainly be open to the public as a whole.

But the fact remains there was a group of blacks who were ready Monday to picket the City Commission meeting and make it impossible to get any persuasion from Grear to hold off the demonstration.

Grear said that as late as Wednesday morning he was still getting comments from black residents of Belle Glade who were opposed to the move.

In a case like this, it may not matter what the Lions have in mind for the pool if the blacks believe it will be turned into an all white facility.

If they firmly believe this, they'll act accordingly and those actions could be disastrous to the city. We're naturally hesitant to bring up the ugly head of racial conflict, and the possibility of it, again. But playing the part of an ostrich with its head in the sand never solved a problem.

The commission will be meeting in a work session Monday night to discuss the action and as distasteful as it is, race relations should be considered before any move is made.

It would be a disservice to the community to open a racially segregated pool, especially when it's directly across the street from Glades Central with its predominantly black student body.

But if the Lions don't have this in mind, it would seem to be a good idea for them to spare no effort to get the point across.

A Federal Flood

Congratulations, Belle Glade.

You're going to be given a chance to help pay off the money spent by the federal government to help rebuild the Ohio Valley and Pennsylvania after floods there.

Whether you want to or not.

The city doesn't officially know it yet, but Belle Glade is now considered by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, in all its infinite wisdom as flood prone.

As a matter of fact, the city has been so considered by HUD's Federal Insurance Administration for nine months, but HUD is an apparent advocate of the old saw that what you don't know won't hurt you.

It's supposed to be federal policy that the first people to learn on a local level about a community's being declared flood prone is the community government itself.

In this case, the powers that be decided to work through a news release, a propaganda kit which encourages the press and private citizens to apply pressure on local government to get them to qualify the city for coverage.

"I know you will agree," William I. Greener Jr., the assistant to the secretary for public affairs, writes, "that an informed public is the best weapon we have in stimulate action by those local governments which have been reluctant to enroll in the program, possibly because up to this time they have not been made aware of the immediate and long range benefits it offers their citizenry."

On the other hand, it could be because no one from HUD has seen fit to let the local government know it governs a flood prone area and is eligible.

And if the community doesn't qualify? Why, no hunk can make a loan to anyone wanting to build a house, or renovate a house, nor can that person get any kind of federal loan.

The community stagnates for lack of growth. It's that simple.

Belle Glade has already been having trouble with a state agency which has banned the construction of residential units until the city meets its demands on what must be done with the sewage system.

In order to qualify for the federal flood coverage, should the city fathers wish to do so, they would have to adopt land use regulations and zoning dictated by Washington, D.C.

And the federal government would have another foot in the door of local government.

But the most obvious thing about the insurance program is that it was originally offered in 1968 to communities around the nation but there weren't many buyers.

Now they're going to force the local communities to force homeowners to buy it, or at least they're going to try to.

And like one area hunk put it in April, the whole thing is designed to bail the government out of a situation it got itself into during floods in the Ohio Valley.

Mark up another one for Uncle Sugar.

Well, it was almost silence, except for a quiet, whimpering sound heard through the pounding raindrops falling on the new car's head and that same buzzer giving him the raspberry.

By this time, Glenn was doing serious damage he could ill afford to the limp strands of hair drifting over his forehead.

But I've got to give credit where credit is due. Glenn is nothing if not resilient. He finally figured out what to do with an interlock system gone berserk.

him Saturday morning at a meeting. The meeting folded, because there were only a few of the scout workers who showed up.

Out of an expected turnout of 15 or so people, the only scout to make it was Charles, the Rev. J. Frank Ingram, Arthur King from Clewiston and District Executive Earl Hartman.

Charles mentioned one of the reasons we might be having problems with kids today is that life is made too easy for them, that a lot of parents are too worried about making life easier for their kids than they had it.

He said one of the things kids need more of is responsibility, that they need to have a job that's up to them to handle.

He made his point with an anecdote about a boy at Glades Central who had been skipping school and showed up to the fact he had been skipping to work in one of the packing houses.

When Charles asked if he'd given any of the money he'd made to his mother, the boy told him, "No, she never asked for any."

As the dean said, though, how in the name of the Lord Harry was the boy's mother to ask if he woke up in the morning, got out of her bed, put on her clothes, planted his feet under her table and ate her food for breakfast, and then told her he was going to school?

It's this kind of self-discipline. Charles seems to be trying to instill in the boys of Glades Central and it's this kind of discipline that not only builds a pride in one's self but creates an awareness of a person's responsibility to his community.

It's a pity he hasn't been able to get that message across to a few adults in the community. Maybe there would have been a few more people at that meeting.

Maybe there'd be a few more people, as a matter of fact, getting involved in a number of things in the community.

And maybe Belle Glade would be a better place to live.

One of the jobs he holds in the community is that of District Commissioner for the Glades District of the Boy Scouts and I was talking to

Charles Todd is like that. Charles is the dean of boys over at Glades Central High School but he's one of those types of guys who seems to keep busy doing things most people only "wish I had the time for."

Belle Glades Lions Roar

Members of the Belle Glades Lions Club turned out en masse Monday night as the local civic club asked the city commission to consider selling the club the 99-year lease the city has on hand holding the municipal swimming pool. The club leased the land to the city in 1957 but a clause in the lease gives the club the right to buy back the land and any buildings erected by the city.

conditional payments are being currently withheld from three of the industry's largest producers and their associated growers, pending USDA investigation of a Department of Labor study indicating faulty timekeeping practices.

The USDA study indicates timekeeping practices used by U.S. Sugar Corp., the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida and Atlantic Sugar Association are depriving workers of their $2.15 per hour.

The USDA Investigating agency is now studying the USDA report to determine whether the companies have underpaid their British West Indies cane cutters.

Fairbanks said any increase in the price of sugar as a result of the House action will benefit the Florida industry.

"Knowledgeable sugar trade specialists predict," he said, "an increase in sugar prices and possible shortages in some locations."

The industry will harvest the 1974-75 crop under the provisions of the existing act, but the effect on Florida after the present crop has been harvested will depend on world sugar production and consumption he said.

"The world situation for 1974 will, for the fourth year in a row," Fairbanks said, "put consumption of sugar in excess of production and stocks at the lowest level in history."

Our Growing America

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS ABOUT OUR GROWTH

HOW OUR PRINTING INDUSTRY HAS GROWN

When the first magazine was published in America in 1741, few people realized how many future Americans would be affected in so many ways by the growing industry. Today, Americans read more than 850 consumer magazines, 200 farm publications, and 3000 business periodicals. You might say that American reading interests have grown by leaps and bounds!

The year 1741 saw both American Magazine and Benjamin Franklin's The General Magazine and Historical Chronicle for All the British Plantations in America. Although neither magazine lasted a year out, they did set the tone for special-interest magazines in the years to come. Women were able to read exclusively about other women with the publication of Ladies' Magazine in 1828. Children's magazines go back to 1789, the year our first president was inaugurated, with Children's Magazine. Calculated for the Use of Families and Children. It contained an "abridgement of geography, essays on morality, religion, manners, etc., familiar letters, dialogues and select pieces of poetry."

Today, special-interest magazines are at the height of their popularity. In fact, although attention has turned to the problems confronting mass circulation magazines, special-interest publications are flourishing. So is the magazine printing industry! Typical of this industry's growth is World Color Press, which prints an array of special-interest magazines and has become one of the nation's largest publication printers. It has shown a 15 percent compounded annual growth rate in pretax operating earnings since 1968. World Color Press is one of the family of companies owned by City Investing Company, which is well known for operating leading companies in promising fields.

The printing and publishing industries have always mirrored our nation's economic and demographic trends. That's a good reason why these industries will continue to prosper.

Among American Indians, some baskets were lined with clay and used in cooking. These vessels were not placed directly over a fire. Contents were heated by dropping hot stones in the baskets.

Sub Food Should Compete

Many new-fangled substitute foods are reaching the market in the form of meat-like breakfast links, patties resembling sausage and Canadian style bacon slices, as egg and butter substitutes and others.

Processing companies which make these textured vegetable protein products (TVP) boost them as having no animal fat and no cholesterol found in natural meat and their aim is at people who fear heart attacks.

Some comparisons have been made between the substitute breakfast products and the real thing by the National Livestock and Meat Board and the results are interesting.

Compared were real eggs and pork sausage and buttered toast with egg substitutes, TVP breakfast links and toast with margarine.

The National Livestock and Meat Board says the breakfast comparison would have been more complete had it included real fruit juice versus a synthetic product.

In the analysis of the test, it was found that the typical real breakfast had almost five grams more protein, over 200 milligrams more phosphorus and nearly an equal amount of fat. Substitutes compared well with the real thing in terms of

A and B vitamins. A major difference according to the comparison between the real breakfast and the TVP products was that the substitutes have 242 milligrams more sodium than the real thing, and doctors advise heart patients to cut down on their sodium intake or eliminate it altogether to control high blood pressure, which is a leading contributor to heart trouble. I think it is clear, based on these facts, that the natural real thing animal protein products can continue to have competitive advantages over the substitutes in terms of the total health in bidding for the consumer's dollar. They can compete also in terms of cost and total value. That's the way it should be.

Karen's Korner

By
Karen

Softball season is finally here for all those players, men and women alike, who like to get out there on the field and have a good time and also have a little competition. (Of course the main thing I look for is to see who drops more balls than I do).

The Men's Show Pitch Softball League was to have started its games Tuesday night and it'll be interesting to see who will come out on top this year.

The Women's Softball League starts its games Monday night in Belle Glade with Glades Sugar competing against Royal's in the first game and Wallis playing opposite Haskley in the second game.

Three games will be played each week with all Monday night games in Belle Glade and Tuesday and Thursday night games at the Canal Point field.

For all you players and/or spectators who don't know where the field in Canal Point is, let me give you a few pointers. You will see the park from the highway but it isn't that easy to get to.

Unless you want to park on the side of the road, you must better back-track a little bit and turn down one of the side streets on the right side. Drive down a little way, until you come to a small intersection and then turn left and go straight down to the ball park.

Otherwise you'll probably be like I was and be driving around in circles trying to look for a side street that turns off the highway and goes directly to the field.

While I'm on the subject of softball (see how easily I can maneuver) a word ought to be put in for these poor boys who are stuck in between age groups in softball and baseball. Boys age 13-14 are eligible to play for the Pony League baseball teams and men 18 or older can play in the Men's Softball League.

Where does that leave the boys who are between these two ages? I know a few at least who have complained about the situation but it must not have reached very many ears because surely there must be someone in Belle Glade who would be concerned enough about keeping some boys off the street by giving them something constructive to do, with a little competition to spice it up some.

But all these guys can do in the summer is go and watch the older ones play softball and hope that one day they will be able to get out there and play ball instead of lying on the sidelines all the time.

Tackle Testers End Tournament

The Lake Okechobee Tackle Testers wound up their second bass fishing tournament Saturday with the winning boat hauling in 19 pounds, seven ounces.

Club public relations man, Walter Parker said the tournament was won by the fishing team of Louis Hattoe of Pahokee and Darrell Mathis of Belle Glade but he said they beat out the second place boat by only five ounces.

The total weight of bass caught of the second place boat was 19 pounds, two ounces, being pulled in by club member Joey Thompson and his guest, Keith Siles.

Parker said Hattoe and Mathis were fishing off Bare Beach and used white rubber plugs and purple worms while the Thompson-Siles team were using Devil's Horses and purple worms off Kreamer Island.

Their largest bass was caught by Don Kelly, using a speed shad, who boasted a seven pound, seven ounce bass. Parker said the tournament, beginning at 6 a.m. at Pahokee Harbor, included a total of 12 boats and 24 fishermen, made up in teams of one member and one guest.

"We were fishing most of the south portion of Lake Okechobee from Canal Point to Clewiston," Parker said, "and everyone brought in some bass. Several boats caught more than 16 pounds."

He said the membership of the new club is rapidly growing but said the club is encouraging new members for the western part of Palm Beach County.

"This isn't just for Pahokee fishermen," he said, "We have quite a few Belle Glade fishermen who are members too."

He said anyone interested in joining the club can contact him at 924-5061 after 5 p.m.

Summer Camp to Open

Words won't always describe the sheer pleasure to be found at the Everglades Youth Camp in Palm Beach County, but the flood of repeat applications arriving at camp headquarters, from campers who enjoyed a week or more of the outdoors in 1973, tell the real story of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission camp program.

According to Lt. Bob Hickman, Camp Director, many current reservations are from the boys and girls who want to repeat their "adventures in exploring Florida's woods and waters" when the first of the nine weekly sessions open June 18.

Between fishing, canoeing, hiking, archery, hunter safety classes, "and enjoying three excellent meals daily, the 6-to-14-year-old campers simply don't have a chance to become bored. First time campers are quickly absorbed into the excitement of seeing new aspects of Florida's great outdoors, meeting new friends, and learning new activities."

Another indication of the camper's enjoyment quickly appears as parents arriving to collect their campers are asked for another week or more at the camp.

Weekly fees are $45 per camper, with reservations and brochures available from the Everglades Youth Camp, 561 North Military Trail, West Palm Beach, Florida 33406.

200 Compete in Rodeo

Nearly 200 high school cowboys and cowgirls will compete in the Florida High School Rodeo Association 1973-74 Championships to be held at the Silver Spurs Stadium here June 14-16.

EARLY BIRD SPECIAL!

Bring your car in to be serviced before 8:30 A.M. and receive a 10 percent discount off your bill.

Downtown
Belle Glade, Florida

Five contest events for girls, plus a queen contest, and six events for boys, will be seen at each of the three performances—8 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights, and 2:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon, according to Buddy Best, Palk City cattleman and president of the association.

Church services for contestants will be held Sunday morning, 10 a.m. in the Stadium, with the public invited.

The Silver Spurs Club is making the 12,000 covered seats available as a public service. Admission will be $2 per person, with income going to send Florida contestants to the national rodeo finals in Wisconsin in August, and to provide college scholarships to deserving contestants.

The High School rodeos have a different event structure from regular rodeos—a major difference being the number of events open to girls. Rodeo Cowboys Association governs the High School Rodeo rules and procedures. Events follow: Boys—Tiedown, Calf Roping, Bareback Bronc Riding, Steer Wrestling, Bull Riding, Cutting Horse Contest, Saddle Bronc Riding.

Girls—Breakaway Roping, Cloverleaf Barrel Race, Pole Bending Race, Goat Tying, Cutting Horse Contest, and the Queen Contest held once each year. Cutting will be the only event not held during the public shows. In addition, there is Daily Team Roping, with both Boys and Girls eligible for the teams.

For all events except the queen selection, the youthful cowboys and cowgirls have earned qualifying points by competing at local rodeos throughout Florida. As many as 15 contestants can qualify for the championships rodeo in each of the events.

Points earned at local events in Bunnell, Davis, Palatka, Deer Park, Indian, Fort Orange, Callahan, Dade City, Lake Placid, and Ocala determined eligibility for the finals.

204 Seniors Leave Glades Central

Graduation Day-A Day For Rejoicing, Tears

It was a day for cheering, a day for grinning and a day for congratulations Friday when Glades Central High School graduated 204 seniors of the 1974 class.

The main speakers were Class President Ibrahim Alava, Class Valedictorian Juan Duster and Class Salutatorian Carolyn Ford.

West Area Superintendent of Instruction James Maynor presided diplomatically in the ceremony in a brief, well-rehearsed ceremony as the Ralder hand played several pieces of music.

As Maynor handed out the diplomas, a crowd of family members and friends gathered around the platform to photograph the seniors they were interested in.

Following the handing out of the diplomas, the graduates turned their tassels and bowed raised hands in one last cheer.

New Librarian Here

The new librarian at the Belle Glade Municipal Library is beginning her employment.

locally just in time to kick off the library's annual summer reading program.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brandon Lalioles said she is tiling the program "Follow the Reader" this summer and said it will start at 2 p.m. June 18 with an appearance by the Rev. Randall Parsons and his puppet, J.J.

Mrs. Brandon, who said she likes to be called Ann, is a native of Camden, N.J., and came to the local library after working in technical services, libraries and educational work.

She is a graduate of the College of West Palm Beach. Before her position at Palm Beach Atlantic, Mrs. Lalioles was a graduate teaching fellow at East Carolina University in Greenville, N.C., in the Department of Library Science, where she earned her master's degree in library science.

She is a member of the American Library Association, the Florida Library Association and a charter member of Library Outreach Caucus formed in May.

Mrs. Lalioles said she is still

Cans For Coins

Citizens of the Belle Glade area received $1,113.00 from Reynolds Metals Co.'s aluminum recycling program last year.

Reynolds' mobile recycling unit collected 11,130 pounds of aluminum, the equivalent of 225,000 all-aluminum cans from the area.

During June, the public will be receiving 10 cents per pound for all-aluminum cans on Thursdays, June 6, 13, 20 and 27 from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the City Park, 500 W. Canal St.

The warm summer weather is just beginning, and with it comes an increase in the consumption of cool beverages in aluminum cans, according to Paul Hayden, Reynolds' regional recycling manager.

Turnbull Joins Bank

John W. Turnbull has joined the Florida First National Bank at Belle Glade as president of the organization following the resignation of former President Frederic Rogers.

A veteran banker of 18 years, Turnbull has resided in Palm Beach County for the past 14 years. He came to Florida First from Fidelity National Bank in Pompano Beach, where he was also president.

"I've lived in West Palm Beach for 14 years," Turnbull said, "but this is the first time I've ever worked in a small town like Belle Glade."

"I really believe I'm going to like it here," he said. "It's nothing like it is on the coast. West Palm Beach is growing all the time and Fort Lauderdale is becoming another Miami."

"Here," he said, "people wave at you on the street whether you're walking or driving. On the coast, most people won't even look up from the sidewalk."

Turnbull said his family is living on the coast and he intends to move to Belle Glade in the near future.

Turnbull attended Michigan State University and later attended the School of Banking of the South at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, La. He served in the U.S. Army

Bamford Retires From Center

The faculty of the West Area Exceptional Child Education Center at Gove Elementary School gathered Monday for a double retirement ceremony.

Retiring were Mrs. Selma Bamford, director of the center Child Education Coordinator Marjorie Crick.

Mrs. Bamford was celebrating the end of a 21-year teaching career and Mrs. Crick was ending 39 years of work as a teacher and educational administrator.

The center faculty presented Mrs. Bamford with a plaque on her retirement and Mrs. Crick and county School Superintendent Dr. Joseph Carroll signed a certificate attesting to Mrs. Bamford's years of service.

Mrs. Bamford said she has spent a total of 11 years in Exceptional Child Education, winding it up with the center in the Glades.

Children of the center showed their appreciation for

All other services provided by the agencies will remain available, however, and will not be affected by the taking of inventory.

THE LAGADOS 13-MEMBER BRAZILIAN SINGING GROUP PERFORMS
...this week at Belle Glade Alliance Church at 425 East Canal Street North.

Singing Group to Appear

Thirteen singing Brazilians touring N. America will appear at the Belle Glade Alliance Church, 425 E. Canal Street N., June 16, at the 11 a.m. service.

The group, conceived and directed by OMS International missionary Mike Murphy, has captivated audiences across Brazil since their first performance in 1973. Wherever they appear-at high schools, clubs, churches, civic gatherings, on radio and TV, transformed lives have resulted.

Their concerts uniquely combine tape-recorded slide projections, colored light, and striking costumes portray the culture and spiritual challenge of their vast country. To hear them is to also catch the excitement of lives "turned on" for Christ.

After hearing The Lagados in Brazil, American businessmen affiliated with Men for Missions International determined to bring them to the States and Canada. And so they appear under the sponsorship of MPML, the layman's voice of OMS International.

OMS International is an evangelical interdenominational faith mission, founded in 1901 by Charles Cowman and E.A. Kilbourne. Flourishing under God's blessing, a strong indigenous national church was founded in Japan (1901). In 1907 the work spread to Korea where OMS now has its largest field. Successively the fields of China (1908), India (1941), South America (Columbia 1943), Greece (1947), Taiwan (1950), Hong Kong (1954), Haiti (1958), Indonesia (1971), and Spain (1972) have been added.

From the inception of OMS, a three-fold policy has been observed: 1) the house-to-house distribution of the Scriptures and every creature evangelism, 2) the training of a national ministry, and 3) the establishment of a self-supporting, self-governing, self-propagating national church. We cordially invite you to attend this special event exalting the Lord Jesus Christ, demonstrating the necessity of being born again (spiritually quickened in the things of the Lord).

Services Held

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Ollie Wilson were held Monday at St. James A.M.E. Church with the Rev. Richard Thigpen, pastor, presiding.

Mrs. Wilson was born in 1882 in Patterson, Miss.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Claudia Mae Hanna, and one son, Cornelius Wilson, both of Pahokee; one sister, Mrs.

Ada Davis of Doddsville, Miss.; seven grandchildren; 27 great-grandchildren; nine great-great-grandchildren; two daughters-in-law Mrs. Lovella Wilson of Immokalee and Mrs. Malissia Wilson of Port Lauderdale and many other relatives and friends.

Burial was in Port Mayaca Cemetery at Port Mayaca. Taylor Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Thought for the Day

READ ISAIAH 43:14-21
Read James 1:22-37

Be doers of the word, and not hearers only. [James 1:22]

A popular television star made an eloquent New Year's prayer with a plea to God to "do His thing" to end the wrongs of the world. This request disturbed me. Was not that exactly what happened on the first Christmas-and continues to happen?

Can we no longer see evidence that God is alive here in this world? Is it difficult to see God at work in Appalachia in a mission that lends school books to the children and puts shoes on their feet so they can attend school?

Can we not see God active in inner city and suburban areas as committed persons patiently labor among alcoholics and drug addicts? Is God not acting in a church in Cleveland whose mission is to the residents of the Hough area through tutoring, rat extermination, legal aid, recreation, and Christian training for youth - plus a shower, clean clothes, and a free lunch?

PRAYER: O God, we know You are not just "up there" unaware and unseeing of what's going on. Use us as You continue to move in love and compassion in this world. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

In doing His thing, God looks to us to help implement it.

The Parson Pontificates

Jesus taught us to pray, "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us." What an awesome prayer! What a difference it would make in our society if every church member would sincerely and seriously pray it. How many heartaches would be healed, how many families reunited, how many physical healings would be accomplished if people would forgive as they wish to be forgiven? General George Patton in anger told John Wesley, "I never forgive!" "Then, sir," replied Mr. Wesley, "I hope you never die!" Since we are praying for God to forgive us as we forgive others, are we going to hear Him say on the Judgment Day, "I forgive you, but I'll never forget what you did?" A grudge remembered means a wrong unforgiven, my friends. And if God can't forgive us, it is our own fault. [See Isaiah 43:25.]

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Pastor, George

A friend visited a shepherd in the Holy Land. He observed that every morning he carried food to the sheepfold.

"Is one of your flock sick?" he asked. "Yes," answered the shepherd. "I have a sheep with a broken leg."

"How did this happen?" he questioned. "Was it struck by a stone or bitten by a dog?" "No," replied the shepherd, "I broke it."

"Why?" cried the visitor in amazement. "I thought you loved your sheep." "I do," he answered. "That is why I broke it."

"This sheep was wayward."

Imagine a World without Belief!

It wouldn't be the world that you know or a world that you would want to live in.

Without belief in God, it would be a bleak, cold planet devoid of spiritual guidance and comfort. No Christmas, no Easter, no resurrection, no everlasting life.

Without belief in America and our constitution, the world would regress to strange ideologies. Power-hungry war-lords and dictators would take over to battle each other.

Without belief in law and order, sadism and violence would prey on hapless herds of their fellow men.

Without belief in people, our whole fraternal and economic structure would fall of its own weight. No credit, no business, no fertile farms, no productive factories, no transportation, no commerce.

Our beautiful cities and towns would cease to exist. No incentive for progress and growth. Neighbors would vie with each other for vanishing supplies.

Without belief, the whole world we know would wither and die and fade away.

Fortunately, we can only imagine this lost world of disbelief.

Our world is filled with belief. Everything we have today and hope for tomorrow is based on belief. Belief in God, belief in America, belief in people, belief in personal integrity and dignity.

You can dispel disbelief and strengthen your own belief at the fount of faith where you worship this week.

"Eternal vigilance is the Price of Liberty"

★★★★ Wendell Phillips 1852 ★★★★★

"We, the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do hereby ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

This short paragraph—the preamble of the Constitution for the United States of America—states in one sentence the intentions of the men who wrote it. Not many would find themselves in disagreement with this proposed objective, but from the beginning there has been disagreement over the fact which would be necessary to fulfill these objectives. Some of this disagreement arises out of the tendency of many of us to look at ourselves in the light of our own personal desires, ambitions and material goals.

In order to be able to properly evaluate them, we need to take a more important point of view and try to think more in terms of "We, the people of the UNITED STATES."

Rogers to Speak at Ceremony

U.S. Congressman Paul Rogers will be the main speaker at 10 a.m. July 13 at the formal dedication of the giant W. Turner Wallis Pumping Station at 20 Mile Road.

Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District Executive Director G.E. Dill Jr. said Rogers is a long-time friend of Wallis and will honor him for more than 50 years of service "in furthering the cause of conservation and water management in South Florida."

Wallis was a lifelong resident of Kissimmee, where he died two years ago, and was head of the old Everglades Drainage District, the predecessor of the FCD, which he helped get off the ground in its formative years.

A plaque renaming the pumping station in his honor will be unveiled at the ceremony next month, a part of the 25th anniversary of the FCD.

The pumping station was built in 1955 and it is the largest low level pumping station in the world with a pumping capacity of 360,000 gallons of water per minute.

The station's six pumps are designed to drain three quarters of an inch of water every 24 hours from the 230 square miles served by the West Palm Beach Canal.

The station is being renamed for Wallis as the result of action taken in the U.S. Congress.

Following the dedication ceremony, the FCD will host a barbeque on the grounds.

The Sting

AGRICULTURE COMMISSIONER Doyle Conner (L), releases tiny wasps (Pediobius foveolatus) which attack the Mexican bean beetle, a destructive defoliator of soybeans and other beans. Assisting is Dr. Gerald Greene (C), Entomologist and Director of the North Florida Agricultural Experiment Station at Quincy and Dr. Reese Sailer, Entomologist also with the station. The wasp was developed by the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services biological control laboratory in Gainesville and will be under study by agricultural scientists following its release. Conner says development and release of this parasitic insect will further reduce the need for chemical control of the bean beetle which does upwards of $5 million annual damage to bean crops. The wasp release was made in bean fields at the Quincy Agricultural Experiment Station.

Plaque Dedicated to "Skip" Runck

In a brief ceremony Thursday morning in the Palm Beach Junior College Criminal Justice Complex, a plaque was dedicated to the memory of Meridith "Skip" Runck, by members of his class.

Runck, serving as a Riviera Beach policeman, was killed on duty earlier this year. Mrs. Lee Leffingwell, currently attending Florida Atlantic University, and Howard Friess, of the North Palm Beach Police Department, represented members of Recruit Class I. This was the first class to take the Basic Six-Week Recruit Training Program offered at PBJC in July and August 1973.

In a note to Lawrence D. Tuttle, Chairman of the Law Enforcement Department, PBJC, Mrs. Leffingwell, secretary, as well as the only woman in the class, wrote: "The Number 1 Class of Palm Beach Junior College Police Academy, would like to present this memorial plaque to be hung in the permanent classroom of the academy, in fond remembrance of Officer Meridith "Skip" Runck, who was an outstanding member of this particular class. His memory will never die in our collective hearts and minds, but we would like others who follow in our footsteps to also know of the esteem in which his fellow classmates held him."

Those completing the course are able to enjoy a lifetime of further advancement chances along with the security, social status and involvement in a public service.

Inquiring Gardener

Q. I am interested in buying some rose bushes, what should I know about selecting them?

A. Roses are available in various grades or qualities, depending upon the type of root system they have. Grafted roses are composed of two, different roses, one forms the root system (rootstock) and the other the top (scion). The three standard rootstocks are for Florida, which given the best results in this area, Dr. Huey, which is second best, the Multiflora is the least satisfactory rootstock because it is the shortest lived under Florida conditions. Plants on their own roots, (tops and roots from the same cutting) are satisfactory for the older shrub varieties. Normally, plants grafted on any of the standard rootstocks live longer and produce more flowers than when grown on their own roots.

Dormant or bare root plants are available from October to March, and will bloom in about 10 weeks after planting. Most failures of heavily dormant plants result from insufficient water. Plants should be watered daily until growth starts and weekly after growth starts.

COSMETOLOGIST BERNESTINE NELSON POSES WITH TROPHIES WON during recent state-wide competition of Orange Blossom Association convention

Cosmetologists Form Club

A new cosmetologist club has been formed by a group of Belle Glade beauticians and one of its members has already picked off the first place prize in hair styling at a state-wide meet.

Officers of the Realistic Cosmetologist Club, Unit #25 were installed April 28 by Mrs. Connie C. Gilbert, a state organizer for the Orange Blossom Cosmetologist Association, Inc., a state association of cosmetologist clubs.

Member Bernestine Nelson won her first place prize at the annual Orange Blossom convention and was named Hair Stylist of the Year by the organization.

"We attended the state convention in Tallahassee," Recording Secretary Barbara Stanley said. "We accomplished a great deal to better our profession and to better accommodate our community and patrons."

"On June 3, our club attended a work shop for HDC Manufacturers of Chicago, Ill., which was held in Miami. This work shop," she said, "was held at William J.O'Brien Beauty Supply Co. and we were introduced to an entire line of new products in the beauty industry."

Miss Stanley said the group was taught the proper way in which the new products can help its members as cosmetologists serve their patrons. The nine members of the club are Mrs. Elnora Benjanda, advisor; Mrs. Sarah Lowe, president; Mrs. Flester Smith, vice president; Miss Barbara Stanley, recording secretary; Mrs. Geneva Singletary, financial secretary; Mrs. Louisa Hilberry, treasurer and members Bernestine Nelson, Mrs. Willie J. Brown and Mrs. Mattie Richardson.

Women's Project Launched

The Palm Beach County Commission on the Status of Women is launching a project to gather information about women in Palm Beach County. The purpose is to encourage more qualified women to seek appointments as members of the widely varied advisory commissions, appointed by county commissioners and municipal governments.

Human Rights Commission, Insurance Advisory Commission, Land Use Commission and many others have at least a token single woman appointee, or in most cases no women presently serving.

Women, who make up more than half of the county population, have untapped experience, education and interests which should be utilized. For too long men have assumed almost total responsibility for citizen participation on these advisory boards and commissions.

The Commission on the Status of Women, chaired by Thelma Moore, was appointed by the Palm Beach County Commission nearly a year ago to look into the problems of women in Palm Beach County. The Commission voted unanimously to undertake this project.

A questionnaire, inquiring into the interests and abilities of women who will be distributed widely in the county. Organizations and individuals are needed to distribute and fill out the forms so that information can be made available to government agencies seeking women for leadership roles.

Amendments Considered

Amendments to the pesticide and fertilizer regulations of the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services will be considered at 1 p.m. today in Gainesville June 14, Commission of Agriculture and Consumer Services.

The Pesticide and Fertilizer Technical Councils which make recommendations to the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services will meet at the Doyle Conner Building, 1911 s.w. 34th Street, at 9 a.m.

Proposals have been received to place Carol (formateate hydrochloride) and Torak (diazinon) on the restricted pesticide list. These pesticides then would be designated as so hazardous to man and the environment that restriction are necessary on their sale, purchase, use or possession.

Also proposed is an amendment to fertilizer regulations specifying lawn grasses to which Atrazine, 2,4-D and MCPP in commercial lawn fertilizers can be applied. Atrazine in the amount of one per cent by weight of active fertilizer ingredient would be authorized for use on St. Augustine, Bahia, Centipede and Carpetgrass only.

Be Seen and Live

Of the many variables which combine to cause an accident on the highway, one is visibility of the "target". The less visible your car is the higher its chances of being struck.

According to recent tests at the University of California, the colors blue and yellow were judged the safest if you want your car to be seen on the highway. Blue shows up best during daylight and fog, yellow is best at night. The worst color from the visibility standpoint is gray. It seems to blend into the background and appears to be much farther away than it is.

Luminous tape is also a major visibility factor at night. Its reflective ability triples the distance that your car can be seen. And here's the visibility tip for the day. Why not paint the inside of your car's trunk with luminous paint? In case of a breakdown at night, your raised trunk lid will glow as a warning to the motorists.

Cows One, Caddies One

Hi diddle diddle, the cat and the fiddle and the cow jumped over the moon but when this cow butted heads with a Cadillac one night last week, it was hard to say which party came out on top. The Caddy killed the cow but you should have seen the other guy. It took a wrecker to tow away the Caddy and police and Sheriff's deputies were investigating the case for more than an hour on SR715.

Be prepared

A SUGGESTION FROM THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
BE PREPARED FOR LIFE

Did you know that when we asked boys across the country what they thought was most fun about Scouting they said hiking and camping outdoors? But when we asked them what they thought was most important about Scouting they said "...to help you be prepared for life."

To help you be prepared for life.

Did you know that Scouting has a drug prevention program all its own? That Scouting has one of the most effective anti-drug programs going? That new Scouting merit badges include Computers, Environmental Science, Atomic Energy, Space Exploration and Citizenship in the World? That more Scout troops are being formed in the nation's inner cities than boys groups of any other kind?

Did you know that for every boy in Scouting there's another boy who'd like to be, but can't? And that the reason most of them can't is because no adult in the neighborhood thinks Scouting's worth the time?

If you don't think Scouting's worth your time, you don't know enough about Scouting. Find out more. Write: Scouting, North Brunswick, New Jersey 08902.

COOKING CORNER

How to Boil Water

Enough Water
1 Pot

(Note: a pot is somewhat similar to a cup in shape, but larger and usually made of some sort of metal. It frequently has a long handle as well.)

Put water into pot. (Put must be large enough to hold all the water you wish to boil.)

Light flame under pot. Cook until bubbles appear. Keep your eyes closed during the latter part of this process, as a watched pot never boils.

When using a kettle, follow same directions. When the water boils, the kettle will whistle. It will be hot, so do not stop it by force.
